All,

Sorry I haven't updated you in awhile. Moms been in Rehab for 2 weeks, still has a trach but is able to talk through it and is slow but progressing positively; they are working on her gross and fine motor skills 3 hours a day so she's able to balance herself in a walker and hold her phone in her hands. I am praying for her full recovery by her birthday March 24.

Thanks again for your prayers and support.

All,

Thanks for your patience awaiting this update. My Fam wanted to wait to see the direction of Mom before sending out: since the drs over sedated her during December told us she could stroke and my mom woke up instead. She opened her eyes 12/22 then had a bumpy ride until last week when she weaned off the vent well and is now off completely. drs Then said she my be a quadriplegic and my dad and bro asked for PT and in 10 days my moms now moving her limbs and they moved her off the Covid floor today and want to downsize her trach before sending her to rehab center next week.

Thanks for all your continued prayers, understanding and support.

Thanks for your prayers and wishes, my apologies for not being able to update as often as good news happens. Dad is still 100%. In addition to the trach last Thurs, Mom got a PEG tube Monday and last night she opened her eyes and responded to her name for the first time since being heavily sedated with Fentanyl and Methadone for over 3 weeks! She's starting to breathe on her own for 1-2 hours at a time w/o the vent. Once she can breathe 24hrs on her own and can walk 20 steps they may let us come see her and/or let her come home. (God answered my prayer that she open her eyes before Xmas, 2nd half of my prayer was that she come home before February and 3rd that she recover 100% by summer) should you continue to pray, know God answers to the level of our specificity (above)

So again thank you for your support and understanding, just FYI I'll be on PTO from XMAS to New Years week.

Good news. Trach Surgeon w 25+ yrs. exp. at the top of his game just called. Everything went well. He's been at this since March and said mom should slowly make a full recovery! But we are not out of the woods yet. Were hoping she wakes up by Christmas and is home before February. Recovery is 3-4 days for everyday in a vent so it'll be summer before she's normal again.

Thank you for your continued prayers and support! Please forward to anyone you feel should know or could benefit from.

WSP Fam,

Can't thank you enough for the outpouring of thoughts and prayers for my parents who were both tested "positive" for COVID 11/11/20.

As you may know, I drove out from AZ Wed night to be at home with my Dad in SoCal because my mom was admitted w/ Renal failure and is now slowly recovering on a ventilator. Mom took the medical route and Dad took the natural route. Moms at maybe 50% Dads at about 85% and I'm fine. All of us are responding very well to probiotics and lots of rest. With siblings assisting, it's been a 3-ring circus that felt like a tailspin but I'm confident we will all be healthier and stronger for it.

My apologies for some latent responses, I'm working in between cooking, staying on top of dads protocol, conversing with doctors/family/friends.

More to follow,

Do you recall last spring when I said on the call that the virus was being pushed to scare everyone into a Gates vaccine? Well after 10 years of going down the rabbit hole, this globalist agenda and their desire to control humanity is finally upon us. With all my being I wish I was wrong this whole time... It's not drama, its real. I'm sad more people won't listen. I don't want to hear "Bryan you were right", not even from Rich Driggs who I emailed about this in June. I just feel we all have the responsibility to notify the world that informed consent is of the utmost importance.

THE PATHWAY BACK TO OFFICES

I commend each and every one of you for your perseverance and dedication. I am honored to have been a part of this effort.

WSP family don't reach out to me with hope of a return to normal and a return to the collaboration and relationships we shared prior to the pandemic. While we may not return exactly to that environment, we do want to respond to your regular requests for continuing the opening of our offices and to bring our teams together to maximize the creative power of our organization.

With that in mind, we have set a target date for a pathway back to normal: Tuesday, September 7. Our goal is to make sure that everyone can plan and make our return to offices meaningful – parents to get their children back in school before returning to work; those who have yet to be vaccinated investigate that opportunity; and we can make sure our offices are ready to welcome our teams back.

The return process features a hybrid approach (working remotely and in offices) tailored to meet the needs of the business and the flexibility that we have all demonstrated makes us great. We expect that most colleagues will want to spend at least 2-3 days per week in the office to renew relationships, to continue key projects, and to forge new pathways. We also recognize that flexible arrangements have been successful, an engine of inclusion, and something we will retain for the future. To accommodate these objectives, we are encouraging people to begin returning sooner than previously planned through a phased approach that allows occupancy levels generally greater than 50%.

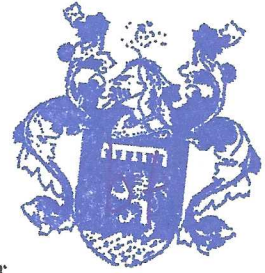

Action Plan: Below are procedures for in-office policies to help you through this transition. Please read the following information carefully and feel free to reach out to any of your leadership for more information. The COVID-19 Policy and Playbook is being updated and will be posted shortly.

Vaccination Status: To comply with various state and local requirements, all employees are required to enter their vaccination information in the Work Together system. WSP USA's Work Together Self-Assessment App now has the capability of adding vaccine information, allowing employees to record their COVID-19 vaccine dates. Recorded information will be protected and used to verify vaccination status as we reduce COVID-19 restrictions in the offices. WSP will continue to monitor the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), federal, state and local COVID-19 mandates and adjust our policies accordingly.

Tomeo Family Court

Employees from Golder, EarthCon, tk1sc and kW: Employees from Golder will continue to use their current system to report their vaccination information. Employees from tk1sc, EarthCon, and kW will be added to the Work Together System this week. These employees will receive an email with login guidance and an access number.

All Employees Encouraged to Get Vaccinated: WSP USA will continue to strongly encourage our employees to get vaccinated at the earliest possible date to better ensure the safety of our people and their families.

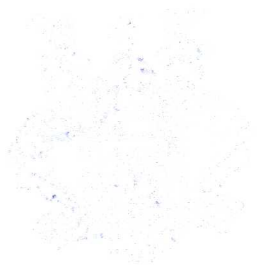

Masks and Social Distancing for Fully Vaccinated

Employees: Employees who are fully vaccinated (two weeks after your second dose in a two-dose series, or two weeks after a single-dose vaccine, i.e., Johnson & Johnson), have no symptoms of COVID-19, and have registered their vaccination information in the Work Together system no longer have to wear a mask or socially distance while working outside your home for WSP, except where required by federal, state, local, tribal, or territorial laws, rules, and regulations, including local business and workplace guidance. Employees who are at-risk or care for someone and need to continue to wear a mask and socially distance are welcomed to do so.

Masks and Social Distancing for Unvaccinated Employees: Employees who are not fully vaccinated are required to wear a mask and practice social distancing while working outside the home for WSP. Masks are not required when eating, sitting at your desk or while in a personal office by yourself. See below travel guidance for additional mask requirements. WSP will continue to have workstation space that allows for social distancing.

The return on September 7 comes with a firm expectation that employees physically work in offices two to three days per week. Local supervisors will work with individual employees to determine specific work schedules for their teams. This is critical to getting the most out of these days in the office, ensuring teams can collaborate face to face.

Any office equipment that was removed to work from home must be returned to the office the week prior to Labor Day so that enough workstations will be available for employees. Equipment includes monitor, keyboard, mouse, docking station and chairs.

Tomeo Family Court

Below is guidance for domestic and international business or personal travel (approvals are not required for personal travel):

Domestic (within the United States): Fully vaccinated employees can travel and return to the office immediately after travel. Travel approval is still required from your District leader or equal in the Development Team. The CDC recommends delaying travel if unvaccinated. Unvaccinated employees who travel by plane, bus, train or other forms of public transportation that enter transportation hubs (airports, stations, etc.) and stay overnight must wear a mask while in the office 100% of the time (excluding eating or drinking) for 10 days. Should the employee obtain a negative viral test 3-5 days post travel, the mask requirement will be removed.

International: WSP USA employees must obtain approval from Rich Driggs, chief operating officer. Currently, the CDC does not recommend travel for unvaccinated employees. Out of an abundance of caution, and based on current CDC guidance, international travel for unvaccinated employees will require an exception and special approval. Fully vaccinated employees may return to the office directly if symptom-free. Unvaccinated employees traveling to a Level 2 or higher CDC designated country will be required to wear a mask 100% of the time (excluding eating or drinking) while in the office, and obtain a negative viral test between 3 and 5 days after travel. Once a negative viral test is obtained, the mask requirement will be removed.

Questions? Please email safetyteam@wsp.com for any comments, concerns or questions. We will continue to provide updates in the coming months. Your feedback is important to us as we navigate through our new normal.

Wishing you a safe hybrid return,

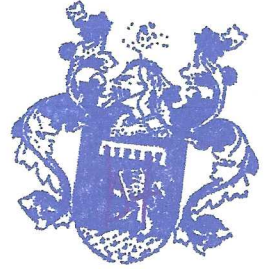

Rich Driggs
